Why would these military officers want their picture taken? Who might the gentleman be who is standing off to the side by himself? If you were that gentleman, what would you be thinking?

Put yourself in this Civil War battle. What was it like? How did you survive?

What do you think life was like during the Civil War for war correspondents and other non-combatants?

Describe everything you see in this picture from a Civil War encampment.

Imagine what this farm looked like before the battle. How has it changed? Was the eventual outcome of the war worth the destruction? Why or why not? How would you explain this to the farm's owner?

You are one of these soldiers. What are you and your comrades doing?
What are you thinking about?
